Expectations & Guidelines for Dual Credit Enrollment:

1. Courses offered have college-level content and subject matter and college-level expectations and standards. Students will be graded accordingly.
2. All courses will become part of and remain on the student’s permanent record. Students will need to disclose in college applications that they have taken college/dual credit coursework. It is the responsibility of the student to contact his/her prospective post-secondary institution and to provide necessary information so the institution may determine if the dual enrollment credits that have been earned are transferable. While all credits earned will be recognized by Regental universities, the institutions cannot guarantee transferability of credits outside of the system.
3. Students will have access to university services such as library, e-mail, and WebAdvisor. Students do not pay student fees and will not be given access to wellness centers, sporting events, or other student activities.
4. Students must be aware of the published add/drop with refund and withdraw dates.
5. Before dropping or withdrawing from a dual credit course, students must consult with their high school counselor to determine the best plan to be followed. Once this step has been completed, the student must contact the Dual Credit contact at the university offering the course to complete the drop or withdrawal process. Students who stop attending class without processing an official withdrawal will stay on the course roll and be assigned an “F” for the course. Under BOR Policy 2:10.1, students are limited to 6 withdrawals in their undergraduate career, which includes HSDC courses. Further withdrawals will be assigned a failed grade. Under SDCL 13-28-37, students who fail a course through the High School Dual Credit Program are no longer eligible to participate, absent a showing of good cause. Students failing a course who seek to re-enroll in future dual credit opportunities through this program should contact the designated institutional representative.
6. Students will be held accountable for academic dishonesty, plagiarism, and/or cheating as outlined by the University’s Student Code.
7. Students must act on their own behalf. Parents, high school officials and others are not permitted to enroll, drop, or add classes on behalf of the student. Students are covered under the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) which prohibits SDBOR institutions from disclosing student information to parents and/or guardians. However, parents may gain access to student records and information by either 1.) the student submitting a signed FERPA waiver giving consent, or 2.) submitting a copy of the parent(s)’ tax return showing that the student is a tax dependent of the parent(s). More information on FERPA can be found on page 4 of the application.
8. Students are responsible for tuition/fees and materials associated with dual credit courses.

I acknowledge that federal law permits institutions of higher education to disclose academic, enrollment, and financial aid information about me to staff who need to know such information to carry out their administrative tasks. I understand and acknowledge that the institutions that comprise the South Dakota system of higher education are also permitted to share such academic, enrollment and financial aid information, either within or outside the South Dakota system of higher education, when I transfer between institutions or when I enroll in coursework from more than one institution during a term. By participating in this dual credit program, I will be deemed to have consented to the disclosure of academic information, including, but not limited to, academic standing, progress, and grades, both within the system and to my high school.

Further, each institution is required to adopt and to publish annually procedures that enact this requirement. The procedures for each Regental institution can be found at the following links:
