

The South Dakota Department of Education (SDDOE) is hosting this workshop to bring together counselors to share and present information. Individual presenters have compiled the following reference materials in conjunction with their presentations. Each presentation and accompanying materials includes opinions, advice, statements, materials, data, images, documentation, and/or other information (collectively "materials"). The materials are for informational purposes only, and the statements, views, and opinions expressed in any presentation or accompanying materials are solely those of the presenter and not of the SDDOE. The SDDOE has not reviewed the materials for consistency or correctness. The SDDOE does not endorse or recommend any presenter or materials presented during the course of the workshop. Neither the SDDOE nor its representatives are liable for the accuracy or quality of the presentations or materials, for any defamatory or illegal conduct of presenters, or any direct, indirect, incidental, special, or consequential damages arising from any presentations or materials, or the use of said materials.
